Presentation: Index Herbariorum - Perspectives of a Long-Standing Collection Catalog

dhobern #1 April 3, 2020, 11:11am

World Catalog of Natural History Collections: Perspectives from Index Herbariorum

Barbara M. Thiers
Director, William & Lynda Steere Herbarium
Editor, Index Herbariorum
New York Botanical Garden

NYBG

> This presentation is particularly relevant to discussions under the following topics:
>
> - 1.1. Directory to support the collections community (USE)
> - 1.2. Locating specimens and genetic materials (USE)
> - 1.3. First step towards databasing collections (USE)
> - 1.4. Assessing the scale and value of collections (USE)
> - 1.7. Foundation for new and enriched services (USE)
> - 2.1. Scope for the catalogue and definition of "collection" (INFORMATION)
> - 2.3. Hierarchical collection structures and subcollections (INFORMATION)
> - 3.2. Community catalogues (TECHNOLOGY)
> - 3.4. Collection management systems (TECHNOLOGY)
> - 4.1. Ownership of information for each collection (GOVERNANCE)
> - 4.2. Communities of practice (GOVERNANCE)
> - 4.3. Technical infrastructures (GOVERNANCE)
> - 4.4. Governance arrangements (GOVERNANCE)

Presentation on Index Herbariorum (IH) from Barbara Thiers (New York Botanical Garden), April 2020 - available as Powerpoint or as PDF.

Index Herbariorum is a mature and heavily used resource bringing together information on the world's herbaria.

Advancing the Catalogue of the World's Natural History Collections

建立《全球自然历史馆藏名录》

Adelantando el Catálogo de Colecciones de Historia Natural del Mundo

Faire Avancer le Catalogue des Collections d'Histoire Naturelle du Monde